Free Spanish Language Greetings From Egreetings.com Are A Big Hit on The Internet!

San Francisco, California (January 26, 2000) — With friends and family scattered all over the world these days, it's hard to stay close. But now, you can send an online Spanish greeting that is like a mini-movie: it comes to you fully animated and in living color.

With more than one hundred Spanish language digital postcards from Egreetings.com, you can transmit warm greetings with the click of a mouse—and for free. “The same characteristics that make e-mail so popular—ease of use, near instantaneous delivery and world-wide acceptance—make it ideal for the exchange of feelings and emotions that are best expressed with online greetings,” said Gordon M. Tucker, Chief Executive Officer of Egreetings Network, Inc.

“We are happy to be able to add fun and romance to busy lives,” said Tucker. “Our Spanish language digital greetings are available free of charge from Egreetings.com for a variety of holidays, events, and even just to say, I'm thinking about you.”

Whether you're sending a Spanish language digital greeting or the recipient of one, the animation, music, beautiful color and laughter is a real day-brightener, a reminder that you may be separated, but you're not forgotten.

You'll see in living color a mariachi band come to life and play you a song; ruby red kisses filling your screen to say, “I love you”; or even a summer greeting with animated sharks swimming in the sunny, warm ocean. For any occasion, Egreetings.com has the perfect Spanish language digital greeting.

The simplicity of sending greetings from Egreetings.com is also part of the appeal. “Our greetings are animated and available anytime, anywhere through your home computer or laptop with instantaneous delivery,” Tucker said. “Just go to www.Egreetings.com, select from a large selection of Spanish language digital greetings, add your personal message and zap it off. It's easy, it's fun, it's thoughtful and it's efficient.”

The Spanish language greetings selections at Egreetings.com are being constantly updated, with new offerings for each season. Categories include animations, friendship, love, birthdays, holidays, congratulations, thank-you's, and many more greetings for any occasion; and there is no charge for sending an Egreetings.com message. So, next time you leave home or begin missing those that are far away let technology work for you, and send your loved ones a Spanish language greeting they'll treasure.
